The year in review

Because of the continued support from our donors and community partners we were blessed to be able to have another successful year of providing high-quality recovery support services to Tennesseans in suffering from substance use disorder.

The Year started off with a dream come true as we received a grant from Healing Appalachia, which is who we were originally inspired by and modeled directly after which helped us set the tone for the year to come.

We were able to provide scholarships into long-term recovery programs, therapy and counseling sessions, another transformative intensive recovery retreat, and help pay for medical and psychiatric services for Tennesseans in early recovery

We are so incredibly grateful for all of our donors and supporters for helping us continue to honor the memory of Keith and the passion and love that he had for others and we look forward to what's to come.

with gratitude,

Logan Terry

Co-Founder/Executive Director
